SIR begins in Mysuru

BLOs start door-to-door VOTER VERIFICATION

Mysuru, June 30 (BLU&BCT)- The Mysuru District Administration launched the Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of electoral rolls this morning (June 30), in accordance with the Election Commission of India's (ECI) directive.

Since its establishment in 1950, the ECI has undertaken periodic revisions of electoral rolls, with the first General Election held in 1952. The last major revision was carried out in 2002.

The SIR has already been carried out in States such as Bihar, West Bengal and Kerala, where millions of ineligible names were reportedly deleted from the electoral rolls. Karnataka now joins the exercise.

2,915 polling stations

Mysuru district has 2,915 polling stations, each assigned a Booth Level Officer (BLO). Assistant Returning Officers (AROs) and Assistant Electoral Registration Officers (AEROs) have been appointed to supervise the exercise.

(See SIR on page 6)

Voters may download the enumeration form from Election Commission's portal:

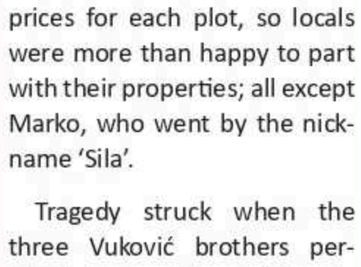
The intriguing architectural oddity



Bol: The town of Bol, on the Island of Brac, is home to one of the most peculiar buildings on the Adriatic Coast. Aptly named House in a House, aka 'Paloc', is not the most eye-catching edifice in Bol. It looks like an old, unfinished building, but it is only when you step inside that you realise the structure houses another house.

Legend has it that, at the end of the 19th century, the respectable and wealthy maritime family Vuković decided to build a grandiose residence in Bol. They started buying land in town, offering above-market prices for each plot, so locals were more than happy to part with their properties; all except Marko, who went by the nickname 'Sila'.

Tragedy struck when the three Vuković brothers perished at sea. The project was abandoned, but Marko Sila allegedly continued living inside his house within a house for the rest of his life.

Gender segregated beach split

Trieste: The Italian city of Trieste, on Italy's Adriatic Coast, is home to Europe's last gender-segregated beach destination, where men and women sunbathe separately.

In the early and mid 1900s, gender-segregated beaches were designed to preserve women's modesty, without attracting attention. As such, social norms faded into obscurity, gender-segregated beaches literally tore down the barriers separating men and women; all except one, Trieste's Pedocin Beach.

The wall dividing the sexes on Pedocin extends into the shallow waters of the Adriatic Sea, beyond which men and women can fraternise freely, if they so desire. However, the pebbled beach area is off-limits for the opposite sex, with local authorities operating separate entries and charging 1.20 euros ($1.4) per person.

VOICE OF THE READER

When money matters more than heritage

Sir,

This refers to the letter titled "Heartbeat of a lost legacy: Bal Bhavan" in SOM dated June 11. I have said it before and I will say it again. We seem to have lost our sense of pride in our heritage and culture. Today, our focus appears to be largely on power and money.

Until every citizen of Karnataka learns to take pride in our ancestry and the legacy left behind by previous generations and develops the desire to leave a similar legacy for future generations, few will care about a historic building, a monument, literature, poetry or art.

The questions that inevitably arise are: How does it affect me? How does it improve my standard of living? How does it make my life easier?

This sense of pride must be instilled in our children. It begins at home and must be reinforced in schools, colleges, workplaces, among friends and within the community.

From what I see, there is only one issue that consistently stirs emotions in Karnataka: Language. But what about honesty, respect for the law, cleanliness, civic responsibility, pride in our State and community and the desire to build a better future for our State, our country, our families and our children?

Many buildings are declared heritage structures. On several occasions, I have asked what exactly constitutes 'heritage' and what makes a building worthy of that designation.

The most common answer is its age. If age alone is criterion, then why have so many buildings that were more than a century old been demolished to make way for new buildings?

Woman strangles husband to death

She had projected it as heart attack but victim's brother had suspected foul play

Mysuru, June 30 (MTY&KS)- A woman, who had strangled her husband to death and cooked up a story by projecting it as a heart attack, has been arrested by Kuvempunagar Police following a complaint from the deceased man's brother.

While the deceased is Nithyananda (50), a Manager at a vehicle showroom, the accused wife is 44-year-old Susheela, a teacher at a private school and residents of HUDCO Layout, Kuvempunagar in city.

Family feud

Nithyananda and Susheela were married for 20 years and were issueless. It is learnt that the couple used to quarrel over petty issues since a few years. Though the couple used to indulge in frequent quarrels, no big quarrels had taken place. But the reason for Susheela to murder her husband is not known, neighbours said.

Cooked up story

Nithyananda who came home drunk on Sunday night, had quarrelled with his wife Susheela. After sometime, the couple slept. But at midnight, Susheela allegedly strangled Nithyananda to death with a cloth. She then called her husband's brother Prof. S.K. Naveen Kumar, Registrar (Administration) of Karnataka State Open University (KSOU) and informed him about his brother's death.

To cover up the crime, Susheela reportedly cooked up a story and told Prof. Naveen that Nithyananda had died of a heart attack at about 2 am. Susheela also called a few relatives and friends of her husband and informed them about her husband's death. A few relatives arrived at the house of Nithyananda in the wee hours of yesterday and even the neighbours were grieving the death of Nithyananda, believing that he had died of a heart attack and even consoled Susheela.

Strangulation mark around neck

At about 8.30 am yesterday, Prof. Naveen and a few relatives arrived at Nithyananda's house.

When Prof. Naveen and others were shifting Nithyananda's body from the room to the hall of the house, they noticed a mark around his neck, scratch marks with dried blood on his cheek. Sensing something had taken place, they enquired Susheela, who told them that Nithyananda suffered a heart attack at about 2 am and she immediately rushed him to a nearby private hospital.

Susheela and Nithyananda

The couple's house in HUDCO Layout, Kuvempunagar.

She further said that as Nithyananda had consumed liquor, the doctors refused to admit him but checked Nithyananda and told her that he was dead, following which she returned home with the body.

As Susheela's statements gave rise to doubts, Nithyananda's relatives informed Kuvempunagar Police.

Kuvempunagar Police, who reached the house, conducted mahazar, inspected the dead body and found the mark around his neck and suspected the death as murder.

The Cops immediately took Susheela into custody and interrogated her during which Susheela is said to have confessed of murdering her husband.

The Police, who collected information and evidences, shifted the body to MMC&RI mortuary where post-mortem was conducted last night and the body was handed over to the relatives of Nithyananda.

Relatives and friends of Nithyananda, who had arrived at the house with flowers to pay their last respects thinking that it was a natural death, saw the Police conducting mahazar and came to know the reason of the death. They then began to curse Susheela and hung the covers in which they had brought flowers to the iron grill of the house.

DCPs Dr. Harsha Priyamvada (Law and Order) and K.S. Sundar Raj (Crime and Traffic), ACP Prakash, Inspectors Rohit and Dhanaraj and other Police officers visited the spot.

DCP Dr. Harsha Priyamvada said, "Susheela has stated that frequent quarrels between the couple led to the murder. She (Susheela) also informed that she had used a bed sheet-like cloth to strangle. We are investigating in various angles including the possibility of others involved in the murder."

A case has been registered at Kuvempunagar Police Station.

Was it a pre-planned murder?

CCTV footage shows two persons entering the house on Sunday night

Mysuru, June 30 (MTY&KS)- According to sources, Nithyananda's murder was pre-planned and Susheela, along with a man, a native of Kolar and another person, may have murdered Nithyananda.

A CCTV camera installed near the house of Nithyananda has captured footage of two persons entering the house on Sunday night.

The Police have collected the CCTV footage and the DVR of the CCTV camera of a nearby hotel, it is learnt.

Susheela's story

At about 9 pm on Sunday, Nithyananda had ordered food online and the neighbours have seen Susheela collecting the food from the delivery boy and taking the food parcel inside the house.

At about 5.30 am on Monday, Susheela called her former neighbour, who is residing elsewhere now and told him that her husband was not waking up, following which the former neighbour and his wife rushed to Nithyananda's house.

When they asked Susheela what had happened, she (Susheela) told them that Nithyananda had suffered from chest pain a few days ago and she had taken him to Jayadeva Hospital and got him treated. But at about 3.30 am on Monday, Nithyananda complained of severe chest pain and she had taken him to Kamakshi Hospital, where the doctors who examined Nithyananda, told her that he had consumed liquor and hence they cannot treat him now and asked her to bring him in the morning.

Body covered till neck

When Nithyananda's brother Prof. Naveen Kumar came to the house at about 8.30 am, Susheela told him the same story. When he saw the body of Nithyananda, it was draped with a bed sheet covering the neck.

But when the body was being shifted from the room to the hall of the house, they saw scratch marks on his cheek and strangulation mark around his neck.

It is said that when senior Police officers grilled Susheela, she spilled the beans and revealed that she had strangled Nithyananda to death with a saree with help from another person.

The conspiracy behind the murder and the real reason for murdering Nithyananda will be known only after a thorough investigation.

KRS hits LOWEST level in 20 years

47.311 tmcft (123.25 ft) in 2025
11.233 tmcft (81.00 ft) in 2026
73,811 cusecs inflow on 28.06.2025
530 cusecs inflow on 28.06.2026

A view of the KRS Dam yesterday, with reducing water levels exposing rocky riverbeds and dried-up reservoir banks.

Mysuru, June 30 (AG&BCT)- The Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam has entered the crucial Southwest Monsoon season of 2026 with one of its poorest water positions in recent years, raising concerns over the sluggish progress of rainfall in Cauvery catchment areas of Kodagu.

According to official data from Cauvery Neeravari Nigama Limited (CNNL) on June 28, 2026, the reservoir held 11.233 tmcft of water at a level of 81 feet against its full reservoir level of 124.80 feet. Inflow stood at just 530 cusecs. Of the total storage, the live storage is only 2.809 tmcft, while 8.424 tmcft accounts for dead storage and silt.

A comparison with data recorded on the same date over the past two decades shows that the present storage is among the lowest for the end of June and is dramatically lower than last year, when the reservoir had almost reached its full capacity.

On June 28, 2025, the reservoir stood at 123.25 feet with 47.311 tmcft of water and was receiving a massive inflow of 73,811 cusecs following heavy monsoon rains in Kodagu.

Notably, the cumulative inflow in the last 20 years is the lowest in 2026 (from June 1 to June 28) with 1.37 tmcft. At the same time, the cumulative inflow in the last 20 years was the highest in 2025, with 38.4 tmcft.

The inflow trend also presents a worrying picture. At 530 cusecs, the present inflow is the lowest recorded among the 20 years listed, even lower than 547 cusecs in 2009 and 655 cusecs in 2019. By comparison, the reservoir received 13,437 cusecs in 2024, 36,510 cusecs in 2015, 23,867 cusecs in 2013, 11,483 cusecs in 2011 and a staggering 73,811 cusecs last year.

The poor inflow suggests that rainfall in the Cauvery catchment areas of Kodagu has so far been insufficient to generate significant runoff into the reservoir.

Reservoir levels during June are closely monitored as they provide an early indication of the monsoon's performance and the likely availability of water for agriculture and urban consumption.

With June traditionally being one of the wettest months in the Cauvery catchment, the below-normal storage and weak inflows have become a matter of concern for residents of Mysuru, Mandya and Bengaluru, as well as farmers and officials.

June 2026 rainfall in India 3rd lowest in... 126 years

India has experienced its third worst June rainfall in 126 years with the nation recording only 92.1 mm of monsoon showers till Monday (June 29) — a deficit of 42 percentage.

Since 1901, there have been only four years when the June rainfall was less than 100 mm, with the worst being 2009 when the country received just 87.5 mm of rainfall followed by 1905 when the figure was 92.3 mm. This June 2026 can very well be the next one when the month ends today (Tuesday).

According to India Meteorological Department's records, the June rainfall was less than 100 mm in only two other years — 2014 (93 mm) and 1926 (97.4 mm). Three other years with poor June rainfall were 1902 (109 mm), 1912 (106.8 mm) and 1923 (101.7 mm).

Despite the poor show in June, meteorologists said it would be premature to press the panic button as one should also take rainfall distribution into account.

Silt accumulation further reduces storage capacity

Mysuru, June 30 (AG&BCT)- Apart from weak monsoon rainfall and poor inflows, another major concern for KRS Dam is the steady increase in silt accumulation, which has significantly reduced the reservoir's effective storage capacity.

Official records show that the estimated silt deposit and dead storage level at reservoir remained unchanged at 4.401 tmcft between 2016 and 2023. However, it rose sharply to 8.179 tmcft (silt & dead storage level) in 2024, increased further to 8.379 tmcft in 2025 and has now reached 8.424 tmcft (silt & dead storage level) in 2026.

Official records indicate that the Dam's dead storage has increased by 4.023 tmcft by accumulation of silt over the past 3 years, effectively reducing its live storage capacity and limiting the volume of water it can hold even during years of good rainfall. 2026 reservoir status is particularly significant as it combines lowest inflow recorded in past 20 years with highest level of silt accumulation. As a result, despite a gross storage of 11.233 tmcft, the reservoir has a live storage of 2.809 tmcft.

Compared to previous years, KRS Dam is not only receiving substantially lower inflows but is also operating with a diminished effective storage capacity because of growing silt deposits.

A Karnataka Engineering Research Station (KERS) Integrated Bathymetric Survey (IBS) found that the Dam accumulated about 2.34 tmcft of silt since its commissioning in 1932. The survey, conducted in 2023, covered reservoir bed using hydrographic techniques.

What is 'dead storage'?

Dead storage is the permanent volume of water held at the very bottom of a dam that cannot be extracted under normal operating conditions. It sits below the minimum pool level & outlet pipes and is primarily designed to accumulate silt & sediment over the dam's lifespan.

High Rise cut-outs & High Concerns...

- Sky high publicity materials installed on Devaraj Urs Road recently triggers safety debate
- Local shopkeepers wonder about MCC turning a blind eye and resorting to act only later
- Unbridled publicity craze puts lives of public at risk, yet no concrete action against violators

Sky high publicity materials, which was installed on D. Devaraj Urs Road in city recently, being removed by MCC Abhaya personnel with the help of a crane this morning.

Mysuru, June 30 (PM&BS)- Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) makes a rule, remains nonchalant allowing the violators to have a free run and finally calls for action with a renewed vigour.

All these was evident, when high rise cut-outs and other types of publicity materials sprung up on the either side of D. Devaraj (D.D.) Urs Road, the prominent commercial hub of the city recently.

The cut-outs erected against the 50-feet tall iron scaffoldings, nearly touching the skies, were installed at about 10 points on a km-long stretch of road from K.R. Circle to JLB Road Junction. They were voluntarily removed by those who had erected them, as the Abhaya personnel of MCC, resorted to act with the help of a crane.

While the glaring publicity materials that sprang up overnight raised the eyebrows of many, it strangely didn't come to the notice of the MCC officials, until Mysuru Mithra (MM), the sister publication of Star of Mysore (SOM), wrote extensively about the menace of publicity materials and dangers associated with it, in its June 30, 2026 edition.

Leave aside the Civic Body, even the Police didn't find any fault in them, at least in the interest of public safety, with D.D. Urs Road being the most busiest stretch of road throughout the day. The very road is the most visited by locals and tourists alike, to shop for varieties like that of garments, jewellery, mobile phones and any other essential goods to name a few. It is anybody's imagination, the density of both pedestrians and vehicles. Yet, the multiple agencies, who are accountable to public safety, turned a blind eye to the unabated publicity stunt, that otherwise spooked danger.

The debate surrounded about the cut-out not just for its height, but for the metal scaffoldings against earlier widely used bamboo poles, as a pillar of support. Any collapse of metal scaffoldings may prove fatal or non-fatal, especially in busy stretches. With monsoon setting in and the rain followed by heavy wind witnessed at times, the safety norms were blatantly thrown into the wind, alleged local traders, pointing at the stones and tiles, kept in the bottom of the scaffoldings as a structural support.

Zonal Commissioner

Interestingly, when SOM spoke to M.S. Pratibha, MCC Zone-6 Assistant Commissioner, over phone, the officer said, the banners and buntings are being removed along with the cut-outs. While she abruptly chose to cut the call, the moment a question was asked about whether MCC had issued permission.

Action sure: RC

Nitesh Patil, Regional Commissioner (RC) of Mysuru Division, also the MCC Administrator, clarified that, no cut-outs or banners are allowed to be installed without the permission of the MCC Commissioner.

The MCC Commissioner is on leave. There is no information available now, whether the permission had been issued or not. Action will be taken after examining the issue, he added.

MCC toothless

A concerned shopkeeper said, "I had never been witness to MCC becoming so toothless. There seems to be a situation, where nobody has control on any affairs within the Civic Body. Hence, the people act according to their whims and fancy. We are forced to bear all these nonsense and remain blind, for the fear of life."

Enumeration forms mandatory for electoral roll revision

The ongoing Special Intensive Revision (SIR) marks a significant change in the electoral roll revision process, making enumeration forms mandatory for all voters.

Unlike earlier revisions, every voter is required to furnish the prescribed details and supporting documents. Those who fail to submit the enumeration form risk having their names deleted from the electoral rolls, thereby losing their voting rights.

From today (June 30), Booth Level Officers (BLOs) will visit every household to distribute two copies of the enumeration form and explain how they should be filled.

If a house is found locked, the forms will be left at the residence and collected during a subsequent visit. Voters may also download the enumeration form from the Election Commission's voter portal — *https://voters.eci.gov.in/

Voters must fill in details available in the 2002 electoral rolls, along with family particulars, including the names of their parents and grandparents, before signing and submitting the form. One copy will be retained by the BLO, while the other will be returned to the voter as an acknowledgement.

Each BLO will make at least three visits to collect the completed forms. The forms will then be scanned and uploaded through the BLO App for verification by the Electoral Registration Officer.

Officials said, voters who fail to submit the enumeration form, will have their names removed from the electoral rolls.

New voter registrations

The SIR also provides an opportunity for fresh enrolment. BLOs will issue Form-6, along with a declaration form to eligible new applicants, who must complete and submit both forms to have their names included in the electoral roll.

State BJP Spokesperson expelled from Party

M.G. Mahesh

Mysuru, June 30 (BLU&DM)- State BJP Spokesperson M.G. Mahesh of Mysuru has been expelled from the party for 6 years on charges of violating party discipline.

Party's Disciplinary Committee President Lingaraj Patil, in the expulsion order, said that M.G. Mahesh had verbally abused using foul language against some top National and State BJP leaders at the party's Webex internal meeting held on June 19.

This act was a clear violation of the party's discipline and went against the party's organisational framework. Subsequently, Mahesh was issued a notice seeking an explanation for his outbursts against the party leadership. But as Mahesh's reply was found to be unsatisfactory, he has been relieved of all his party responsibilities and expelled from the party for 6 years, Patil said.

Incidentally, Mahesh has been expelled from the BJP on the day when an audio clip in which senior BJP leader and former Chief Minister D.V. Sadanandagowda has purportedly expressed displeasure about the happenings in the State BJP Unit and sought the ouster of B.Y. Vijayendra as the State BJP President, went viral on Monday.

Mahesh reacts

Reacting to his expulsion order, Mahesh said he would soon meet National BJP President Nitin Nabin in New Delhi and apprise him of the goings on in Karnataka BJP Unit and how the State BJP leadership itself violated discipline by making public internal matters of the party. "Though I am expelled from BJP, I will continue to serve the party as an ordinary worker," he added.

Adjustment politics has cost BJP in State: Kumar Bangarappa

Kumar Bangarappa

Mandya, June 30 (Agencies)- Disgruntled BJP leader and former Minister Kumar Bangarappa said that "BJP has failed to function effectively as a prominent Opposition Party in the State due to adjustment politics."

Speaking to media persons here yesterday, Kumar Bangarappa, who has identified himself with a faction of leaders, vociferously opposing State BJP President B.Y. Vijayendra, without taking the name of Vijayendra said that the Party President, who is responsible for the organisational activities, was not delivering on expected lines.

Making a pointed attack in the back of subsequent defeats in the recently held elections to State Legislative Council due to cross voting and by-polls to Bagalkot and Davangere South Assembly Constituencies, Kumar Bangarappa suggested that the internal bickering, if any, should be resolved.

Moreover, a senior leader like former Minister Basangouda Patil Yatnal and others should be taken into confidence for the cause of protecting internal democracy within the party, he stated.

BJP will return to power in 2028: He exuded confidence that BJP will return to power in 2028 Assembly elections, as the political weather was in favour of saffron party, owing to the strong wave of anti-incumbency against Congress in Karnataka.

The States having common party Governments both at the State and the Centre shall be witnessing accelerated growth, he opined.

Echoing the concerns of farmers and ally JD(S) leaders, who have been vehemently opposing Bidadi Township Project, Kumar Bangarappa wanted Chief Minister D.K. Shivakumar to shed his ego. Such huge projects requiring vast tracts of land can be planned at arid regions of the State like Tumakuru and Hassan, he suggested.

Samithi stages protest seeking houses

Mysuru, June 30 (BLU&DM)- Claiming that they have not been allotted sites or houses by Karnataka State Rajiv Gandhi Housing Corporation even after long years of wait, shelterless people under the banner of Mysuru District Unit of Vasathi Mattu Niveshanarahitara Horata Samithi staged a demonstration in front of the MCC Main Office on Sayyaji Rao Road this morning, demanding allotment of sites or houses to them.

"According to Rajiv Gandhi Housing Corporation, there are as many as 26,35,820 families in the State which have no sites or houses, of which 10,27,657 are scattered in urban areas. There are more than 2 lakh families in Mysuru district who do not have shelter. As such, the Government should take immediate measures for providing shelter to all the shelterless," they urged.

The protestors presented a 6-point charter of demands to the MCC authorities, which chiefly included carrying out an exclusive census of shelterless people in the entire State as announced in the Budget, acceptance of applications by local bodies for houses/sites and uploading them in Rajiv Gandhi Housing Corporation website, increase of housing subsidy to Rs. 5 lakh, identification of Government lands for distribution of sites and houses and extension of deadline for beneficiaries for completion of their houses, among others.

The protestors also submitted applications to the MCC authorities, seeking houses/sites. Association President H.B. Ramakrishna, office-bearers S.K. Devadas, K.G. Somaraje Urs, Lakshmi and others were present.

Donation theft at Ayodhya Sri Ram Mandir...

'Aurad BJP MLA, RSS leader raised donations from contractors, invested in realty'

Prabhu Chauhan

Bidar, June 30 (Agencies)- A day after Samajwadi Party (SP) President Akhilesh Yadav dropped a bombshell alleging the link between Karnataka and series of donation box thefts reported at Ayodhya Sri Ram Mandir, a former Gram Panchayat President in Bidar has lodged a complaint with Special Investigation Team (SIT) constituted by the Uttar Pradesh Government.

Deepak, former President of Chondori Gram Panchayat, Aurad taluk of Bidar, in a complaint addressed to SIT Chief Vijay Vishwas Pant, has accused former Minister and Aurad BJP MLA Prabhu Chauhan and Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS) leader Gopal of collecting Rs. 5 lakh each from the contractors towards donation to Ram Mandir. Neither any receipt was issued nor any document was made for the donation, he alleged.

Deepak, further alleged that the donation collected was instead invested in real estate and the documents corroborating the transaction will be submitted to the SIT.

In a similar fashion, crores of rupees was collected from contractors as donation to Sri Ram Mandir, added Deepak, who claimed to have submitted his complaint to UP SIT, both through Speed Post and e-mail.

WORD OF THE DAY

Umami

Pronunciation: oo-MAH-mee (noun)
Meaning: Umami refers to the taste sensation that is produced by several amino acids and nucleotides and that has a rich or meaty flavour characteristic of cheese, cooked meat, mushrooms, soy and ripe tomatoes.
Origin: Japanese scientist Kikunae Ikeda is credited with identifying as a distinct taste the savoury flavour of the amino acid glutamic acid, which he first noticed in soup stocks made with seaweed. This fifth basic taste — alongside sweet, sour, salty, and bitter — was named umami, meaning "savouriness" in Japanese. Umami can be experienced in foods such as mushrooms, anchovies, and mature cheeses, as well as in foods enhanced with monosodium glutamate, or MSG, a sodium salt derived from glutamic acid.
Example: "This recipe uses a classic marble cake technique to swirl rich layers of cinnamon into a fluffy olive oil-scented loaf cake. It's topped with a malted milk glaze for a punch of umami, but you can skip it entirely or substitute a simple vanilla glaze." — Tanya Bush, Will This Make You Happy: Stories & Recipes from a Year of Baking, 2026.

THE ODD WORD

Uakari

Short-tailed, long-haired monkey.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

It ain't over till the fat lady sings

Meaning: This colloquial phrase means that the final outcome of an event cannot be predicted until it has come to a conclusion.
The phrase is usually used when the event is coming to a conclusion and it cautions against assuming that what is currently happening is the definite outcome.
The imagery of this phrase typically refers to the stereotype of an overweight soprano in an opera. Specifically, Wagner's opera Der Ring des Nibelugen's last part depicts an overweight opera singer whose twenty minute piece leads to the end of the opera.
Origin: The first recorded use of this phrase is attributed to Ralph Carpenter's article in the Dallas Morning News in March 1976.
Example: "We are down by 20 points in the fourth quarter, but keep fighting; it ain't over till the fat lady sings!"
